JOIN US AT OUR UPCOMING ROADSHOW

Hello,

After years of law enforcement service, you've likely reached the conclusion that some things just don't change – like always having to slog through a cumbersome, bureaucratically-built budget process. We believe that this process shouldn't stand in the way of keeping officers equipped with the most effective and most current public safety technologies – a belief we know that you share.

That's why we've created Officer Safety Plans (OSPs). OSPs were specifically created to help minimize the roadblocks often encountered during procurement while keeping your agency and your officers outfitted with the most current technologies. We'd love to treat you to lunch and talk about OSPs in more detail.

The Officer Safety Plan roadshow will be hosted at The Lot- Liberty Station
2620 Truxtum Rd, San Diego, California 92106 from 11:00 AM - 2:00 PM on Friday, February 15, 2019. We'll cover how OSPs:

- Keep officers and communities safer while saving critical budget by bundling our products and services
- Provide your agency with next generation devices – like TASER 7 and Axon Body 3
- Create process efficiencies by having devices and evidence management tools work seamlessly with officer-centric Axon Records

We look forward to seeing you at this roadshow and exploring how OSPs can help alleviate some of your agency's age-old problems. Click or tap the button below to register.

AXON JANUARY 2019 RELEASE ANNOUNCEMENT

Axon Evidence will be upgraded on January 22, 2019

Axon's January release adds important update for customers that use Evidence Sync to upload restricted evidence to Axon Evidence.com. We are also happy to announce the availability of TASER 7 support pages in Axon Evidence.com, along with other Evidence.com improvements and updates for other Axon products.

Many of this month's updates are the result of your feedback, and we want to continue to encourage you to contact us to let us know what is working and what improvements we can make.

We do not expect any downtime during the update. Refer to the Axon Evidence.com Maintenance Schedule on the Axon website for information on the update schedule times for your region.

What's coming in the January Axon Evidence.com release:

- Update for Restricted Evidence Uploaded from Evidence Sync
 - Based on customer feedback, Axon has made a change to how users are added to the Axon Evidence.com access list for restricted evidence. With this change, when a video is uploaded from Evidence Sync with a restricted category is applied, only the user who uploaded the video is added to the access list. In this situation, if the assigned body camera user is different than the uploader, then the assigned user will not have access to the restricted evidence.
- TASER 7 Support in Axon Evidence

- With the January release, Axon is making support for TASER 7 Conducted Energy Weapons (CEW) generally available in Axon Evidence.com. This support adds a new Inventory page, used to track the health and status of TASER 7 handles, cartridges, and batteries. Please see the complete Release Notes, linked at the end of the email, for more information.
- Resolved Issues
 - Each month we include a list of issues that have been resolved in Axon Evidence.com. It can be easy to overlook these changes, but we want to encourage you to review this section of the release notes.

Other Axon product and field app updates:

- Axon Evidence Partner API Updates
 - This update adds an optional rankId parameter to the response when getting user information. Please see the complete Release Notes, linked at the end of the email, for more information.
- Evidence Upload XT Update
 - An updated version of Evidence Upload XT will be released in mid-January. The updated version will enforce the Evidence Upload XT Bandwidth Settings managed from the Axon Evidence.com Admin page, allow users to set up folders for automatic file uploads to Axon Evidence.com, and has general bug fixes and product improvements. Note: This update was originally planned for late-December 2018, but was delayed to avoid conflicting with the year-end holidays.
- Axon Capture for iOS Update
 - In mid-January 2019, Axon will release an updated version of Axon Capture for iOS (version 4.1). The changes for this version include: added security enhancements, removed the ability to create a new Axon Evidence account from the app, and resolved an Axon Citizen issue by removing the no category option from the category selector.
- Axon Interview v3.9.17
 - We are happy to announce the release of Axon Interview version 3.9.17 with added support for Axis IP cameras and improved I/O module functionality. The updated version will be available starting January 22, 2019. Please see the complete Release Notes, linked at the end of the email, for more information.

Coming Soon Announcements:

This section of the release notes provides advanced notice about major upcoming features, updates, and applications that might require new or updated agency processes. We want to both prepare you for and motivate you with our solutions' continuing progress.

- Evidence Groups - In February Axon will roll out new Evidence Groups functionality. Evidence Groups will build on-top of the existing Group feature in Axon Evidence.com to enable agencies to assign evidence ownership to a Group and automate evidence access based on group membership. Currently, the Group feature only allows group monitors to access evidence recorded by users that are currently group members. With Evidence Groups, users with a supervisor role can always access all evidence assigned to their groups; even if the user that recorded the evidence is no longer a member of the group. Note that while users can be members/monitors of multiple groups at one time, each user and each piece of evidence can only be assigned to one Evidence Group at one time.
- User Rank - In the coming months, Axon will deploy additional functionality to add and manage User Rank as part of a user's profile. User Ranks will allow agencies to define ranks and rank abbreviations used by their agency. Administrators can optionally assign a rank to user profiles as well as search for users by rank. Our initial plans are to expose user rank in user search and the user detail pages. In the future, rank may be used with other functionalities.
- Device Home in Axon Evidence - In February Axon will add a new Device Home attribute for devices to help improve agency device inventory management. The Device Home attribute can be added to devices and then used to find devices on the Axon Evidence.com Inventory search page and help an agency track where devices are kept when they are not deployed with users. Agencies can add Device Home information that corresponds to organizational or physical locations in the agency, such as precincts, divisions, or stations. Then the Device Home attribute can be set to the appropriate Device Home for the agency's devices.
- Redaction Studio Timeline Zoom Feature - As part of our on-going Redaction Studio improvements, Axon will be adding a timeline zoom feature that allows users to zoom in and out on the segment timeline for finer control and placement of video and audio masks.
- Axon Interview Live Streaming - In February Axon will release an refreshed version of the Axon Interview Live Streaming client. The updated version will have a redesigned user interface, along with ability to monitor more rooms simultaneously, add bookmarks during an interview, and collaborate with other users on notes within the the live streaming application, which will can be viewed in Axon Evidence.com. Additionally, the update will provide useful information, such as a health check of the cameras and how long the interview has been recording.

- Redaction Assistant - In December Axon launched early access for Redaction Assistant. We are getting feedback from our early access partners and improving the overall processes. Redaction Assistant is an add-on to the standard Axon Redaction Studio functionality. Redaction Assistant speeds up your redaction process by checking videos for common objects, such as license plates and video screens, and automatically adding mask segments to those objects. Once Redaction assistant has completed the check, Redaction Studio users can review and edit the mask segments as needed. This cuts down the amount of time you need to spend on tedious, repetitious tasks and lets you focus on more important parts of redaction. Additionally, Redaction Assistant's ability to identify objects will improve over time, further reducing the time needed for reviews and editing.
- Axon Performance - programs produce vast amounts of data. Reviewing all that data can be an extremely time-consuming, manual, and paper-based process. Axon Performance allows agencies to take a more automated, data-driven approach to this work by guiding frontline supervisors through intuitive policy review workflows that highlight officer and squad performance based on agency defined criteria. Additionally, Axon Performance can assist agencies by selecting a randomized sample of body-worn videos for supervisor review, highlighting calls for service without a body-worn video, and surfacing uncategorized evidence that's scheduled for deletion. Axon Performance is currently in early access and will be released late in the first quarter of 2019. See the Axon Performance product page for additional information and watch the release notes for additional product announcements.

We know that you may still be working out budgets or getting approval. No problem. All you need to do to lock in early bird pricing is to register before January 31st. You can submit payment at a later date. Need help getting approval? We can help with that, too, with a justification letter.

Hello,

I'd like to ask for your help. This year, there is a book being published called "The Thin Blue Lie: The Failure of High Tech Policing." It's written by Matt Stroud, a person who, shall we say, holds police (and Axon) in very low regard.

I am also writing a book, called "The End of Killing" – which is a counterpoint, setting forth a strategy for how the continued evolution of less-lethal capabilities will save ever more lives... culminating when we reach the performance of something like the Star Trek Phaser.

Critics like Mr. Stroud rely upon telling the stories of where lives are lost. We need to balance his negative narrative by telling the stories of the lives you all have saved, and the risks you undertake to do so.

If you have a story about how you or someone else from your agency used some of our technology to save a life, or to better protect the public, would you mind sharing it with me? We can't just respond with statistics, we need the human stories of the amazing and heroic work you do.

If you respond and share a story, I will take your email as permission to retell your story. Write it exactly as you would want it told (redacting personal identifying information as appropriate). Feel free to identify your agency, your officers, or not. I will assume what you send is ready for sharing.

Also, please send me your address, so we might send you back a little gift as a thank you for helping us tell the story of the good work we do together.

Let me conclude by thanking you for doing an often thankless job. I am sorry for people who feel they need to smear you, and I am committed to pushing back against them.

I am thankful to be a part of your community, and a part of your team. I can't wait to read more of your stories, and I will share them widely with the rest of the team here at Axon. It frequently puts a lump in our throat to learn of how you put the heroics together with our technology to do amazing things.

For those of you who didn't see it, here's a link to the tribute we put together with OneRepublic to celebrate and thank the men and women in blue: http://go.pardot.com/e/636291/4W-n9VhvEbs/3rjbhx/924735165?h=F1EDgGGu_7MFqwl_5vCnmc1ZpUWWiQVomimtr93wgMg

AXON JOURNAL

DECEMBER 2018

Happy holidays, everyone! It's the season of giving and togetherness, and we've put together a host of information to match that holiday spirit. Webinars, case studies, a limited time discount... we've got something for everyone in this issue of the Axon Journal.

LEARN HOW TO BAND TOGETHER TO TACKLE

BUDGET CONSTRAINTS

It's no secret that budget constraints are a constant inconvenience for law enforcement agencies. Long needs lists + short funds = under-quipped officers and potentially underserved communities. When faced with these problems, agencies must turn to out-of-the-box solutions – like partnering with other agencies to fill needs. Watch this webinar to learn more.

WATCH THE WEBINAR

USING MODERN TECHNOLOGY TO COMBAT DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Domestic violence is a huge public health and social problem worldwide, often leading to long-term mental and physical health issues. To find out more about how police deal with domestic abuse cases, we ran a study on the Queensland Police Service in Australia. The numbers are startling: 25% of women in Australia experience domestic violence while in a relationship, and Queensland law enforcement responds to 5,000 cases a week. Click or tap the link below to learn more about how body cameras have helped to deal with this important issue.

PUSHING PREVENTION: OXNARD, CA AXON CITIZEN CASE STUDY

Oxnard PD implemented Axon Citizen for Officers in December of 2017 and leveraged Citizen for Communities as an early access partner in June of 2018. Soon after rolling out the service, the department realized the potential crime deterrence possibilities in addition to the inherent time-saving and efficiency-adding conveniences. Click or tap the link below to learn more about Axon Citizen for Officers and the benefits that Oxnard PD has experienced.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO BE EARLY

Axon Accelerate 2019 will be here before you know it, and the window to claim your early bird discount is closing soon. We are offering $200 off the regular price with early bird pricing now through January 15th. Group pricing is available as well, with $200 off the regular price for the first two attendees and $499 off the regular price for each additional attendee. You can register now and pay in the new year.

Time is running out, so make your reservations to what last year's Accelerate attendees said was "the best conference they have ever been to."

Background: To ensure that our training accounts for the latest updates in technology and public-safety best practices, Axon periodically updates its training materials with important new information.

Version 21 of the TASER Instructor and User training courses has been released and is effective January 14, 2019. Version 21 supersedes all prior training revisions.

About Version 21

With the release of Version 21, Instructors will have the ability to receive certification on up to three Conducted Energy Weapons (CEW). We have reformatted the instructor course to provide more hands-on training with the weapons, in depth scenarios and Virtual Reality training. Students will also learn how to develop and safely implement scenarios, isolation drills and conduct teach-backs to hone their instructor skills. TASER X26P, X2 and TASER 7 CEW courses are included in Version 21 and TASER M26, X3 and X26 CEW courses are available upon request. The requirements for the certification courses have changed to the following:

- Instructor certification for the X26P, X2 and TASER 7 CEW is a total of 20 hours (4 hours online and 16 hours classroom with a Master Instructor). All students will be required to attend the full course to obtain certification or renew a certification (no separate “recertification” course). The fee for an Instructor certification is $495 per student. We are continuing to offer the online option for internally conducted courses. Submit your request.
- Master Instructor and Instructor certifications will include certification on the TASER 7 CEW, and students may choose optional certifications on the X26P and/or X2 CEWs at no additional cost. Master Instructors must have all certifications in order to teach for Axon, and for consideration of Senior Master Instructor promotion.

Version 21 curriculum key updates include:

- TASER 7 CEW content
- Enhanced explanation of CEW technology as it relates to electricity and NMI
- IACP Model Policy
- Improved interactive online experience
- Conducted Electrical Weapon was changed to Conducted Energy Weapon
- Changes to Instructor and User Release requirements and other pertinent information from V20.2 Training Bulletins

This folder contains the most recent warnings, user and instructor release forms, training forms, certificates, training drills and scenarios, videos and other instructor resources.

We will mail the Version 21 DVD to any instructor who is not able to download material due to agency policies. If you have any questions regarding this Training Bulletin, Version 21, download issues, or need to request a DVD, please contact the TASER Training Department at training@taser.com.

Thank you for your continued support of TASER CEWs!

GET THE BEST DEAL FOR THE BEST LAW ENFORCEMENT CONFERENCE AROUND

What's something that 97% of people would recommend? Ask people if they recommend breathing air and you'll likely get a percentage lower than this. Which makes it all the more incredible that 97% of last year's Axon Accelerate attendees recommend this conference to their colleagues.

Axon Accelerate – the leading technology conference in public safety – is back again this year. And for a limited time we are offering $200 off the regular price with early bird pricing – now through January 15th. Group pricing is available as well, with $200 off the regular price for the first two attendees and $499 off the regular price for each additional attendee. You can register now and pay in the new year.

EVIDENCE.COM SERVICE UPDATE

Earlier today we experienced a disruption in service with our Axon Docks, Evidence Sync, Web Upload, and other upload mechanisms that caused uploads of log files to be delayed; however, the issue has been resolved. At this point all uploads are working again as normal.

Our Engineering team will continue to investigate this issue to put in place preventative measures. Thank you for your patience and if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact our support team.

DECEMBER 2018 RELEASE ANNOUNCEMENT

Evidence.com will be upgraded on December 11, 2018

Axon's December release adds a number of small, but important, updates to Evidence.com and other Axon products. Many of this month's updates came to us as customer feedback, and we want to continue to encourage you to let us know what is working and what improvements we can make.

We do not expect any downtime during the update. Refer to the Evidence.com Maintenance Schedule on the Axon website for information on the update schedule times for your region.

What's coming in the December Evidence.com release:

- Evidence.com Admin Page Updates
 - This update separates the device setting pages into discrete entries, making it easier to find the device settings you are looking for, and adds a new page to manage bandwidth settings for the Evidence Upload XT application.
- Axon Citizen Update
 - This update improves the mechanism Axon uses to gather consent for using cookies on Axon Citizen for agencies in the United Kingdom and European Union.
- Evidence Created and Evidence Deleted Reports Update
 - To enable easier association between evidence and devices, we are adding the device serial number to the Evidence Created and Evidence Deleted reports. If your agency uses these reports with any automated tools, you may need to make minor modifications to ensure the tools continue to work as intended. The change will add a Serial Number column (camera_serial_number) between the device_id column and the notes column for both reports.

- Segmented Download Links General Availability
 - With the December release, we are pleased to announce the general availability of Segmented Download Links for all agencies. Please see the complete Release Notes for more information.
- Resolved Issues
 - Each month we include a list of issues that have been resolved in Evidence.com. It can be easy to overlook these changes, but we want to encourage you to review this section of the release notes.

Other Axon product and field app updates:

- Evidence.com Partner API Updates
 - This update adds the ability to get an evidence access link using the Evidence.com Partner API. Additionally, the revised Evidence.com Partner API Guide will include updated examples of how to user the filter search parameter.
- Evidence Upload XT Update
 - An updated version of Evidence Upload XT will be released at the same time as the December Evidence.com release. The updated version will enforce the Evidence Upload XT Bandwidth Settings managed from the Evidence.com Admin page, allow users to set up folders for automatic file uploads to Evidence.com, and has general bug fixes and product improvements.
- Axon View for iOS Update
 - Before the end of 2019, Axon will release an updated version of Axon View for iOS. This update will significantly simplify the process for pairing and reconnecting to an Axon Body 2 or Axon Flex 2 camera. Please see the complete Release Notes for more information.
- Axon View XL Updates
 - An updated version of Axon View XL for Axon Fleet and Axon Fleet 2 will begin deployment on December 12. The updated version has changes to the View XL user interface, along with general bug fixes and product improvements. Please see the complete Release Notes for more information on the changes.

Coming Soon Announcements:

This section of the release notes provides advanced notice about major upcoming features, updates, and applications that might require new or updated agency processes. We want to both prepare you for and motivate you with our solutions' continuing progress.

- TASER 7 Support in Evidence.com - In January 2019 Axon will make support for TASER 7 Conducted Energy Weapons (CEW) generally available in Evidence.com. This support adds a new Inventory page (for tracking the health and status of TASER 7 handles, cartridges, and batteries) and an Administration page for controlling TASER 7 settings. If you have questions about accessing the Evidence.com TASER 7 pages before the January release, please contact your Axon representative.
- Redaction Assistant - In December Axon is launching early access for Redaction Assistant. Redaction Assistant is an add-on to the standard Axon Redaction Studio functionality. Redaction Assistant speeds up your redaction process by checking videos for common objects, such as license plates and video screens, and automatically adding mask segments to those objects. Once Redaction assistant has completed the check, Redaction Studio users can review and edit the mask segments as needed. This cuts down the amount of time you need to spend on tedious, repetitious tasks and lets you focus on more important parts of redaction. Additionally, Redaction Assistant's ability to identify objects will improve over time, further reducing the time needed for reviews and editing.
- Axon Performance - Body-worn camera programs produce vast amounts of data. Reviewing all that data can be an extremely time-consuming, manual, and paper-based process. Axon Performance allows agencies to take a more automated, data-driven approach to this work by guiding frontline supervisors through intuitive policy review workflows that highlight officer and squad performance based on agency defined criteria. Additionally, Axon Performance can assist agencies by selecting a randomized sample of body-worn videos for supervisor review, highlighting calls for service without a body-worn video, and surfacing uncategorized evidence that's scheduled for deletion. Axon Performance is currently in early access and will be released during the first quarter of 2019. See the Axon Performance product page for additional information and watch the release notes for additional product announcements.

Sgt. Snyder -

I apologize for not getting back to you as I thought I had done so. The only cancellation term is Termination for Non-Appropriations or a lack of funding. There is a negative effect, however, as it can affect the credit rating of the City. Since we are looking at about nine months it would probably make more sense to ride out the rest of the contract and change to Lite accounts at the end but please let me know how you'd like to proceed.

Sorry I didn't have better news but let me know if you have any further questions or how else I can assist.

Thanks,

Allen

Happy New Year. Sorry for the delay, it was a bit tougher to find answers with a lot of the internal team on vacation. I've been digging further regarding your request to move down to a Lite evidence.com account. It turns out that the PD bought 5 cameras and Pro e.com licenses in 2014 on a 5 year contract that expires November 2019. To move down to a Lite account would require cancellation of your current contract. Let me know if this is an option you'd like to pursue or if you have any further questions at all.

Thank you for getting back. This time of year gets hectic for everyone, so no problem on the delay. Is there any fee's with cancelling the contract early?

Sgt. Snyder –

Happy New Year. Sorry for the delay, it was a bit tougher to find answers with a lot of the internal team on vacation. I've been digging further regarding your request to move down to a Lite evidence.com account. It turns out that the PD bought 5 cameras and Pro e.com licenses in 2014 on a 5 year contract that expires November 2019. To move down to a Lite account would require cancellation of your current contract. Let me know if this is an option you'd like to pursue or if you have any further questions at all.

Thanks,
Allen
